

Glocal Spring School Program 2019 in Tokyo Tech

Theme: Design for Humanity Collaboration by Graduate Students in doctoral and master's program *1

1 Credit
Doctoral
Liberal Arts
Courses for
Only 3 Days!

New Camp!

(Glocal Japan Y2/ Path-Breaking Liberal Arts Courses Y2)

“Glocal” is new internationalization viewpoint that develops an excellent technology and idea from a local scale to a global scale. We focus on how to materialize closeness to person and how to develop an individual's invention to worldwide innovation. This original program is coordinated by the staff of the Doctoral Liberal Arts Courses.

明和電機

OTAMA Tone: Sound
Instrument Simulates
Vocal Band

Photo : KIOKU Keizo

OTON Glass: Sight
Extension Device

DAY 1 Lecture: Keisuke SHIMAKAGE (Assistant Prof. Tsukuba Univ.), OTON Glass Co. Ltd., CEO

Day 3 Workshop: Nobumichi TOSA, MAYWA DENKI, Art Unit Producer

Final day: Group Presentation and Award for Team

Guests & Referees:

Tetsuya MIZUMOTO,

Executive Vice President for Education

Junichi IMURA,

Vice President for Teaching and Learning

Hidetoshi SEKIGUCHI,

Vice President for International Affairs

Date: 3rd-5th March 2019

Venue: Ookayama EEI Buld. Multipurpose Hall

(Quorum 40 persons, Application Close in 20th February)

*1 Graduate Student (Master's Program, Professional Master's Degree Program, and Doctoral Program),
Research Student, Special Auditing Student, International Exchange Student

※Staff of Tokyo Tech who would like to observe the program: Please contact to us.

Institute for Liberal Arts

Staff: (Head)Prof. Takehiro Inohara, Daisuke Harada, Hironao Kaneko, Kenji Hatanaka, Naoko Kuriyama

Contact: Liberal Arts Courses Office: bunkei@jim.titech.ac.jp

URL: <http://bunkei.ila.titech.ac.jp/gsp/gsp.html>