

Students learn and think for themselves in a world-class research environment

A phased framework that organically interrelates liberal arts and specialized education

Diverse programs tailored to the needs and goals of each student

Goal-driven leaders who take on challenges in science and technology to advance society

Intellectual curiosity about science and technology with the desire to contribute to society

Bachelor's Degree Program
Individuals with a grounding in science and technology who learn and think for themselves

Master's Degree Program
Specialists in science and technology who contribute to our global society

Professional Master's Degree Program
Science and technology practitioners who construct theories contributing to the development of industry and society

Doctoral Degree Program
Leaders in science and technology building a better society

