Career Planning: Choosing the Right "First-Step" After University
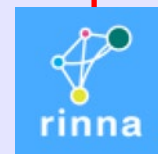

Guest Speaker: A. Lagata/Human Resources Mgr., rinna Co., Ltd.

rinna

- rinna Corporation is an AI development company that was founded in June 2020 as a spin-out from a team that had been researching AI chatbots at Microsoft.
- The most important aspects of business for AI development companies like ours is "human resource strategy". The human resource strategies of companies are changing dramatically on a global scale. By paying attention to the human resource strategies of technology companies, we can see the major trends of "technology x business x people" that are driving the world. In this lecture, we will focus on "human resource strategy" and introduce the latest global trends with examples from our company.
