Join the OPEN FORUM at Tokyo Tech

Open Forum is a casual opportunity to come together and discuss issues that matter to us in English. (Sometimes in Japanese.) Each time, a student or other member of the community makes a short presentation on any topic of their choice. After that, participants ask questions and discuss the focus for the day. No prior registration is necessary to participate in person! We are also calling for students who would provide a topic. Please see our website! (*"Cross the border!" program students may join as a presenter to clear one of the requirements of the program.)
