

International Cooperation Simulation (Trading Game)

Facilitator: K. Kamura/Assoc. Prof., ToTAL

Y. Matsuzaki/Assoc. Prof., ToTAL

- Through highly structured games, students will experience the leadership skills (strategy development, negotiation, communication, and teamwork) necessary for society.
- The "Trading Game" is a participatory workshop developed in the 1970s by Christian Aid, a British NGO, and is still being held around the world for its thought-provoking and unique game content.
