ToTAL — Tokyo Tech Academy for Leadership

Systems Thinking & Leadership (Series of 2 classes)

Facilitator: A. Fukutani / Systems-Thinking Educator

- Systems Thinking is a way of thinking that delves into the "connections" between the complex events we experience in reality, and improves our insight to crate the results we really want from a deeper level than simply dealing with problems.

- In this session, we will focus on Systems Thinking, touching on ideas such as "learning organizations" and "mental models", and we will also explore the nature of leadership in this complex society.
