Number of Admitted Students: Several

Types of Programs: Research Student Program
(eligible to enroll in master's or doctoral program)

Application Period: March 1, 2022 – April 1, 2022

1. General Prospectus

Through the SDGs Global Leader program, JICA (Japan International Cooperation Agency) aims to foster junior/mid-level government officials, academics, and leading human resources in various fields. They will be capable of influencing policymaking in their countries or contributing to socioeconomic development in the near future by conducting research in a master's/doctoral program at a Japanese university.

The objectives of this program are to develop high level human resources who would contribute to appropriate policy decision and its implementation for tackling political and developmental issues in respective fields, and to establish and maintain mid and long-term good relations between the selected countries and Japan.

The program accepts scholars from selected countries by region, which include Southeast Asia, the Pacific region, South Asia, East and Central Asia, Latin America, Middle East, and Sub-Saharan Africa. (For the list of selected countries please refer to “Selected Countries by Region” on page 2).

Officially dispatched students in the program will enroll at Tokyo Institute of Technology (Tokyo Tech) as Research Students in the Research Student Program starting from September 2022.

Participants who pass the entrance examination for April 2023 will be eligible to enroll in Tokyo Tech's master's or doctoral degree Program. Those who do not pass the entrance examination must return to their home countries.

3. Qualifications and JICA Financial Support

■Eligibility

Individuals must satisfy eligibility requirements of both JICA and Tokyo Tech.

- For eligibility requirements of JICA, please contact JICA of your home country.
- For eligibility requirements of Tokyo Tech, please refer to the following.

Individuals must satisfy either of the following criteria to apply for Research Students at Tokyo Tech:

- (i) He or she must be a graduate of a university or college, or is expecting to graduate before enrollment at Tokyo Tech.
- (ii) He or she is recognized by Tokyo Tech as having academic abilities equal to that of university or college graduates.
- (iii) Individuals should not be registered as a student at any other university or college at the expected time of enrollment as a Research Student.

■Scholarship Benefits

Scholarship recipients will be provided a monthly stipend of JPY 146,000 (as Research Student). This stipend is subject to change as specified by the regulations of the JICA programs. The monthly stipend will not be paid to those who take a leave of absence or is long absent from Tokyo Tech. The term of scholarship is from October 2022 to March 2023 as a Research Student (the monthly stipend will not be provided for September 2022).

4. Application Procedures

Please follow three steps of application procedures as follows.

- 1st step: Selection procedures at the JICA office of one's home country (through November 2021)

Applicants are required to submit necessary documents to a JICA overseas office and go through the selection process. For those applicants who select Tokyo Tech as no. 1 choice, the applicants must first find and contact prospective academic supervisor. As a general rule, we do not screen candidates without the name of prospective academic supervisor. At this step, please check the faculty member and laboratory information carefully to see if your research field matches the faculty member's specialty. You may contact your prospective academic advisor in advance directly by email, etc. if necessary. To find prospective academic supervisor, please refer to "1. Finding an Academic Supervisor" below for details.

- 2nd step: Matching Procedures at Tokyo Tech (from Mid-December 2021 – Early January 2022)

The applicants who passed the first step can proceed to the "Matching" procedures at Tokyo Tech. At this step, the selected applicants may undergo an initial interview by our faculty members, including their prospective academic supervisor. The selected applicants may be asked to submit necessary documents at this step required by Tokyo Tech, which may include the following: Official Academic transcripts, Certificate of Graduation or Expected Graduation, Research plan or Research Status Sheet, English proficiency test scores, and Evaluation sheet with Recommendation Letter issued by Supervisor, Head of Department, or similar official of applicant's previous or current university attended. Please refer to "2. Documents to be Submitted" below for the detail of these documents.

- 3rd step: Applying for Tokyo Tech (March 1 – April 1, 2022)

After first and second steps, final candidates are selected. At this step, final candidates are required to officially apply to Tokyo Tech by submitting their completed application documents to Tokyo Tech, no later than the application deadline of April 1, 2022. Final candidates are required to submit all of the necessary documents, regardless of the prior submission to the prospective supervisor. Please refer to "2. Documents to be Submitted" and "3. Submission of Application Documents" below for details. Notification of the results will be announced in July 2022 by JICA.

1. Finding an academic supervisor

Please refer the chart below for the procedure to find your academic supervisor and contact information. Some academic supervisors may require submission of additional documents such as English proficiency test score report, Evaluation sheet with a Recommendation Letter, Research Plan, etc.

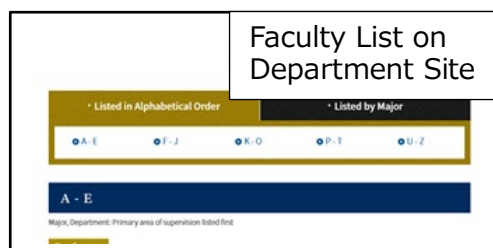

For those applicants who select Tokyo Tech as no. 1 choice, please be sure to state the name of prospective academic supervisor. As a general rule, we do not screen candidates without the name of prospective supervisor.

STEP 1

Refer to List of Faculties (SDGs Global Leader – September 2022 Admission) in the program page to confirm which departments and faculties are accepting students for your program.

STEP 2

Access your intended department website and confirm the potential academic supervisor's major and research fields.

STEP 3

Use Tokyo Tech's research database, "Star Search" to find faculty member's contact and other information.
