

Imperial College London – Tokyo Tech Joint Workshop on Bioscience and its Interface with Technology

4 November 2016, Tokyo

Place – Ferrite Hall, Museum and Centennial Hall 3rd Floor, Ookayama Campus

9:30 – 9:35                      Opening remarks by Tokyo Tech Executive Vice President Kiyoshi Okada

9:35 – 9:45                      Overview and purpose of the workshop by Imperial Associate Provost Margaret Dallman and Tokyo Tech Vice President Isao Satoh

Session 1                              Presentations on current research activities and interests

9:45 – 11:00                      A. Bioscience and synthetic biology

11:00 – 12:15                      B. Data science and complexity

12:15 – 13:15                      C. Neuroscience and robotics

Session 2

13:15 – 14:00                      Lunch meeting and poster presentations 1 (odd numbers: blue)
(poster presentation begins at 13:30)

14:00 – 14:20                      Talk by a Japanese corporate member
NTT Data Institute of Management Consulting, Inc. Research
Director Ippei Hagiwara

14:20 – 14:50                      Poster presentations 2 (even numbers: orange)

14:50 – 15:00                      Break into parallel sessions

Session 3

15:00 – 16:00                      Parallel sessions (information sharing and brainstorming)

A. Bioscience and synthetic biology

B. Data science and complexity

C. Neuroscience and robotics

16:00 – 16:15	Coffee break
16:15 – 17:15	Reporting back and panel discussion (whole group)
17:15 – 17:30	Closing remarks and next steps
18:00 – 19:45	Reception

**Facilitators – Professor Margaret Dallman and Professor Isao Satoh