

Teacher education courses

Teacher education courses at the graduate school are certified courses for a junior high school and a high school advanced teacher's license in Japan. However, now, no course is open to students in International Graduate Program.