Vaccination Certificates for International Travelers

The Japanese government has announced it will issue official certificates to confirm that individuals have been vaccinated against COVID-19. Those who have been vaccinated and are expecting to travel abroad can apply to their local authorities for a certificate. The certificate is intended to be used by destination countries when making decisions on whether to ease self-quarantine and other entry restrictions.

Those who need a certificate, including students expecting to study abroad, may refer to the following information on the website of the Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare.
