

Application Guide for the International Exchange Program Under Tuition Waiver Agreements for Academic Year 2021 (Departures between January to June 2022)

1. Outline

This guideline is for the International Exchange Program Under Tuition Waiver Agreements (“the program”). Participants in this program pay tuition to Tokyo Tech, and tuition at the host university is waived. This program is not limited to improving language skills and experiencing different cultures. Students in this program are expected to focus on their specialized fields of study through classes and researches at the partner universities. It is possible to earn credits at the host university (there are some exceptions) but not a degree.

2. Dates

Departures between January 1 and June 30, 2022

* The study abroad program should start at the beginning of the Spring/Summer semester (January–April) at the host university. If you wish to start your program after July 2022, you must apply in the application period of Autumn/Winter departure.

* In the case of study abroad for research activities only, some universities will accept applicants for study periods of three months or less than 1 semester.

3. Partner Univ.

Please refer to the List of Partner Universities.

*Make sure to check the latest information and details on Tokyo Tech and partner universities' websites

4. Eligibility and Requirements

- The applicant must be enrolled as a regular student at Tokyo Tech during the program.
- The program duration may not exceed 2 semesters. (The specific dates must follow the academic calendar of the host institution).
- The applicant must meet language requirements set by Tokyo Tech, which are described in Attachment.

For international students:

- Recipients of Japanese government scholarships (MEXT) are not eligible for this program.
- Students who entered Tokyo Tech in Spring 2021 are not eligible to apply for this round of recruitment (i.e., for the program starting from January – June 2022). Similarly, for the recruitment of students departing from July to December 2022, we will not accept applications entering Tokyo Tech in September 2021.
- Study in the applicant' s home country is permitted only when both the partner university and Tokyo Tech agree to its necessity for the student' s research.

For all students:

- Students who are planning to take a leave of absence from Tokyo Tech are not eligible to apply. However, if a student wishes to apply for the program during such a leave, they may consult the International Student Exchange Division.
- If the exchange period will conclude before the student's graduation (e.g. for a student starting study abroad from B3 year and ending it during B4 or extending their enrollment), the application can be accepted with their Academic Advisor's signature only. However, we advise applicants to consult with both their Department Chair and Academic Advisor before submitting the application.
- If a selected candidate is unable (regardless of reason) to start their study abroad at the intended date, they must withdraw from the program.

Please see Form 5 “Pledge/誓約書” for the terms and conditions.
